DANTE'S INFERNO

PRESIDENT'S CORNER

Ron Pane

Looking back, club progress impressive

As my term draws to a close, I look back on the past 11 months with a true sense of accomplishment.

The physical building that we had in March is a mere shadow of what the Dante Event Center has become. We have a new general manager who reported at our last board meeting that our beautifully renovated facility has booked more than 55 events since September, almost 34 percent of which are weddings.

We have a revamped policy and procedures manual in the works that will spell out a specific capitalization policy, as well as a maintenance schedule for the building.

We also are considering a series of incentives for club members who bring in qualified applicants or who prepay for their dinners. Our ultimate goal is to have a process that ensures that our club operates smoothly

Venue improvements help increase 2020-21 bookings

The Dante Club is increasingly recognized in the community as a worthy special events venue, thanks to customer praise, word-of-mouth recommendations and social media posts.

In 2019, the club hosted six weddings. As a result of this year's facility renovation, promotion and improvements in our services, we've booked 21 weddings for the 2020-2021 season, with more inquiries coming in daily.

In addition, numerous booking requests for anniversaries, birthdays, quinceaneras and meetings have rolled in.

In the past month, we have booked 25 new events for the upcoming event calendar year. Included is our plan to resume hosting monthly Sunday night dinners for members, friends, families and the general public, beginning in January.

The dinners will be held on the first Sunday of every month, reviving the club's traditional Italian Sunday night dinners of the past.

We'll share more details about the dinners soon.

NEWS, NOTES AND OTHERWISE

Advisory and finance update

The advisory and finance committees are now officially combined after members voted in October to adopt several proposed changes in the club bylaws.

Treasurer Tom Mezzanares reports that the club's financial picture is strong, thanks to low-interest loans we've procured and an increasing demand for our renovated Dante Event Center as a venue for a wide range of events.

Website redesign efforts continue, with several details still in the works.

A task force led by past president Rich Battistessa has developed several proposals, now under consideration by the board, to help increase membership, revenue and meeting attendance.

The board has agreed to a recommendation that we resume monthly Sunday night family dinners in the new year.

The dinners will reflect the strong Italian tradition of bringing extended families together for a Sunday meal that's enjoyable and inexpensive, especially for children and grandchildren.

General manager Jennifer Peretti reports a strong book of business, largely attributable to this year's facility remodel.

Members are encouraged to attend this month's members dinner and meeting. October's dinner was outstanding, and November's promises to be even better.

Reservations must be made on time. Walk-ins on the night of the dinner are no longer allowed.

New committee

The advisory committee has agreed to establishing an entertainment committee responsible for finding speakers and performers to enliven our club and public functions.

Rich Battistessa will lead the group, with assistance from Dan Calcagno, Ralph DiLibero and Jim Dimino.

Look for a slate of guest speakers to coincide with events indoors.

Newsletter marketing

It's hard to imagine that our first year of Dante's Inferno advertising is coming to a close.

Newsletter coordinator John Caselli offers his personal thanks to these steadfast sponsors: Johnny "the barber" Waldron, Tom "Mixed Bag" Novi, Jim Relles of Relles Florist, Mark Pedroncelli of Pedroncelli Chiropractic, Realtor Patrick Vogeli, Ladies Auxiliary board member Helen Manfredi of Medic Ambulance and Troy Milan of the Italian Cemetery in Colma.

With the interruption in exposure we were able to provide these businesses this year via monthly meetings, the board has extended the end date of existing advertising contracts to March 31, 2021.

In the meantime, anyone interested in advertising their business in the Inferno should email John Caselli at Jac6652@aol.com.

Bocce postponed

Where does your family hail from? Let's share our stories

Happy turkey month! The Ladies Auxiliary still isn't having monthly dinner meetings.

I'd love to say we'll resume in December, because those are always such special dinners, but the consensus among members is that they'd rather wait until after the first of the year.

Details will be forthcoming.

Renovation work at our Dante Event Center is almost complete.

Thanks to all the wonderful improvements, the facility already has several weddings scheduled for next year and is looking to add many other events to the calendar.

The men's club has done an amazing job remodeling the place so it no longer looks dated.

LADIES AUXILIARY NEWS

Debra Cattuzzo

It looks incredible, and I think it will encourage more people to hold parties and events there. I hope our members drop in to see it.

As you know, I serve as the co-president of the Dante Club's Ladies Auxiliary. I was born and raised in Sacramento.

My family were members of St. Mary's Catholic Church, and I attended St. Francis High School and California State University, Sacramento.

I worked as a criminal investigator at the Sacramento

County District Attorney's Office for more than 30 years.

My parents were both born in California, but their parents were born in the province of Treviso, Italy.

My maternal grandmother came from Possagno, and my grandfather came from Paderno del Grappa.

My fraternal grandparents both came from the town of Casa Del Tomba.

Where are your relatives from? Share your family story. You can email me at cattuzzod@gmail.com.

Please remember to save pull tabs off your aluminum cans and bring them to our next meeting.

President's Corner

going forward.

On the social front, I'm pleased to announce the return of our Sunday night dinners, beginning in January. We'll be able to accommodate 125 guests on a first-come, first-served basis.

Prices for the meal will be moderate in the hope that families will be able to attend, as well as members. We'll have more details to share as we get closer to January.

Many thanks to everyone who made all this possible. Ernie Tomassilli, chairman of the buildings and grounds committee, and his "wrecking crew" have been here at the club almost nonstop since mid-March.

Members who have returned to the building lately have seen changes that have helped bring our facility into the 21st century. I urge those who haven't dropped by yet to come take a peek. I know you will be pleasantly surprised.

By Nov. 1, we will install a new sign for the front of the building reflecting our new handle, the Dante Event Center. See the renderings of the artwork below.

I urge members who haven't contributed to the Dante Club Legacy Building Fund to do so, in any amount they're able.

These donated dollars will help support our maintenance schedule. The fund will guarantee that we have the financial means to keep our facility looking as great as it does today for the next 100 years.

Happy Thanksgiving to all!

These graphics show the updated designs for new signage that will adorn the outside front of the renovated club facility.

Members review and approve changes to Dante Club bylaws

Distribution of revised document underway

Proposed changes to the club bylaws had their second reading in September. A third and final reading with a vote took place Oct. 19 at the members meeting.

These changes were approved by a vote of 47 to 5:

Nonsubstantive, semi-technical

- changing the word "shall" to "may"
- renumbering certain agenda items
- combining position titles financial secretary and treasurer to treasurer/financial secretary

Substantive

- combining advisory and finance committees and their duties, and membership and investigating committees and their duties
- changing the membership of certain committees
- shortening the bylaws amendment process from three to two months by voting in the second month
- reducing the bylaws amendment vote requirement from two-thirds of those present to a majority of those present
- increasing terms of the board of directors from one to two years
- having club officers assume their duties at the time of election
- adding duties to the role of recording secretary
- changing the term "club room" to "Dante Club facility"

President Ron Pane would like all Dante Club members to have a copy of the amended bylaws, so we are working to distribute them. Most of the approved changes are effective immediately. One change — increasing board terms — will take effect in December.

For any follow-up questions or concerns, call Ron at 916-798-0111 or email him at repane@icloud.com.

children are hospitalized at the University of California, Davis, Medical Center in Sacramento.

The $1,250 raised has helped pay for more than 60 nights of lodging.

With the resumption of indoor events at our club, we can once again give pull-tab collections to Ron Cristoni or John Rosso.

For more information about the program, members can go to the Ronald McDonald House Charities, Northern California, website at www.rmhcnc.org. Click on "Getting Involved" and scroll down to "Pop-Tab Program."

Club apparel

Members can purchase Dante Club-branded aprons and four styles of sweatshirts and polo shirts.

Clothing comes in sizes for men, women and children.

To order items, email Mark Pedroncelli at peddc@surewest.net.

Membership update

After waiting months for our monthly dinners and meetings to resume, we're anxious to tackle the waiting list for applicants to the Dante Club.

We'll reach out soon to the 14 who have expressed interest in joining our club.

We plan to schedule interviews with candidates on the night of a members dinner. At that time, the committee can chat with them and confirm their eligibility and commitment to helping the Dante Club thrive.

After the interviews, candidates may stay for our social hour and dinner. After dinner, they'll be asked to excuse themselves as members conduct the business meeting.

The pause in our membership recruitment efforts has been long, but we hope to empty the waiting list by early 2021.

Applications are available online or by contacting anyone on the membership committee. Members are Bob Guidera, Frank Calcagno, Pat Orelli, Ernie Tomassilli and Dan Calcagno.

Buildings and grounds update

The buildings and grounds committee's extensive list of accomplishments continues to grow as its final task list nears completion.

By Nov. 1, the committee will finish painting the exterior of the building and will install a new sign above the awning.

These two improvements will make a strong first impression on visitors as they drive through the entryway. A new front driveway gate and shrubbery will help mitigate the visual and noise impact of the nearby car wash.

The committee's final interior improvement, installation of new flooring in the Tuscan Room, will be completed by Nov. 20.

Volunteers are still needed to help us achieve our goal of having a showcase facility that reflects our Italian heritage in the 21st century.

Those who can help should call Ernie Tomassilli at 916-541-9507.

Negative attitudes toward Italians have changed since the 1890s

By Ralph DiLibero

Except for a mass hanging sentence for convicted native Americans in 1862, the single most massive public lynching of law-abiding residents in the United States occurred in New Orleans in 1891.

After nine Italian immigrants were tried and acquitted of murdering police chief David Hennessey by a locally appointed jury, a lynch mob refused to accept the verdict and broke into a holding cell, assaulting the nine and two other Italian-Americans who happened to be there.

Local legislative bodies looked the other way as the violent mob gathered up the eleven men and hung them.

The horrific event was followed by mass arrests of Italians throughout New Orleans and attacks against Italians nationwide.

On March 16, 1891, The New York Times noted that the lynched men had been “sneaking and cowardly Sicilians, the descendants of bandits and assassins.”

A day later, the newspaper wrote that “lynch law was the only course open to the people of New Orleans.”

Louisiana Gov. John Parker called Italians “lawless and treacherous.”

Theodore Roosevelt, Parker’s friend, wrote to his wife about a dinner where, he said, various “dago

Sacramento County regulations now allow the Dante Club to host indoor events while maintaining precautions. Sanitizer stations must be set up throughout our building, and facial coverings are mandatory for anyone on the property. In addition, all guests and staff members must have their temperatures taken as a safety precaution whenever they enter the building.

We will continue to do our part to help prevent the spread of the coronavirus while bringing back our special events and activities indoors.

diplomats were present, all much wrought up by the lynching of the Italians in New Orleans.”

“Personally,” Roosevelt wrote, “I think it rather a good thing and said so.”

In America in the 1890s, Italians were considered a variant of a mythical “black race,” mostly because Italian immigrants were willing to work alongside African-Americans.

In 1892, President Benjamin Harrison, who had campaigned on protecting African-American voting rights, attempted to appease angry Italian immigrants protesting the New Orleans lynching.

Harrison ignored the continental discovery voyages of Amerigo Vespucci and Giovanni da Verrazzano and proclaimed the land-mass discovery of what became the United States as “Christopher Columbus Discovery Day.” It was a one-time national holiday on Oct. 12 to recognize Italian-American contributions to the country.

Italian-Americans, especially those living in the northeastern United States, continued to celebrate the date as Christopher Columbus Day.

In 1934, political lobbying by a state senator, the first Italian-American elected to public office in Rhode Island, persuaded President Franklin D. Roosevelt to declare Columbus Day a national federal holiday.

Cultural attitudes toward Italian-Americans have continued to evolve over the decades.

During World War II, the threat of worldwide fascism and the enlistment of tens of thousands of former Mussolini-supporting Italians into the U.S. Army converted the image of Italians to “white.”

The image was reinforced when 40,000 men from the former Italian Army aided the Allies on the beaches of Normandy, and more than 1 million Italian-Americans served in the war.
